Review Report on Retention of Transitional Education Students
Reviewed and discussed the results of the report on retention and graduation rates of transitional education students. The report is a good start in helping to identify student success and retention rates, but it may need to be further refined by program code and by campus to ensure we are meeting the needs of our students to ensure success.

Business Intelligence/Business Decision Making
Reviewed the business intelligence decision-making demonstration on some of KVCC’s dashboard information – areas in the pilot project include course utilization, enrollment trends and zip code. This has broad implications. It was agreed that the project can move forward and ties in well with our metrics and dashboard discussion. This will come back to the Cabinet for future discussion and will include specific goals and projected budget implications.
