Congratulations Students,

As I shared in a recent letter to you, this achievement is particularly impressive because you accomplished this milestone during one of the most unprecedented times in our nation's history.

The COVID-19 (Coronavirus) pandemic and related fall-out threatened to derail your educational journey, but you persevered and have nearly completed your coursework.

Life as we know it has changed dramatically, but here are some things that I know for sure:

- Your dedication and drive to complete your degree at Kalamazoo Valley was unwavering.
- You finished your studies from home.
- You remained engaged and determined.
- You overcame the challenges of remote learning.
- You dialed in and you dug in.
- We will never forget this time in our lives.
- We will always remember your steadfast efforts.
- And we will always hold a special place in our hearts for the graduating winter class of 2020.

Sincerely,

L. Marshall Washington, Ph.D.
