

MI-ACE Women's Network Kalamazoo Chapter Presents: Women of Influence

ACE WOMEN'S Network™
Michigan

Thursday, Nov. 13 | 3:30 p.m. – 5 p.m. | Kalamazoo Valley Community College
Texas Township Campus, Rm. 4240

Featuring a panel discussion with influential women in academia from Kalamazoo Valley Community College, Western Michigan University and Kalamazoo College. Each panelist will share their professional journey working in higher education as a woman — the challenges they faced, the supports that helped along the way and advice they have to pass along to other women.

Women in academia are invited to:

- Celebrate the achievements of women leaders
- Build relationships
- Share experiences
- Foster a supportive community dedicated to advancing women in higher education

Light refreshments will be provided. Use the QR code to register.
Registration deadline is Nov. 11.

MI-ACE is committed to improving the general climate and professional environment for women by identifying, developing, encouraging, advancing, linking and supporting (IDEALS) women in higher education careers throughout the state.

Dr. Danyelle Gregory

Associate Vice President for diversity and inclusion at Western Michigan University

Amy MacMillan

Professor of business management and co-chair of the Department of Economics and Business at Kalamazoo College

Dr. Cheryl Almeda

*Program Director of early and elementary education and faculty member in foundations development at Kalamazoo
Valley Community College*