

Moth Story Hour: Water

Open to writers of all levels: all students, faculty, and staff of Kalamazoo Valley Community College.

We are looking for your water stories!

Write about a moment that features water in some way, or in which water becomes a part of the story. Your story can touch on water in any of its forms: lakes, rivers, clouds, snow, ice, fog, in a fountain or pool, etc.

Guidelines:

- Water Theme
- True story
- 1-2 pages, typed, double spaced, 12-point font (approximately 500-1000 words)

Writing Tips:

- Vivid images that help your readers imagine the story: sense of sight, taste, touch, smell, sound
- A story you would love to read out loud
- Head over to the Moth Story Hour website to listen to examples of stories:

Submissions will be collected until noon, November 21, 2025

Writers will be selected to read on our Moth Story Hour Stage @ Anna Whitten Hall: 6-7 p.m., Dec. 5, 2025!
